Excerpts of A Message from County Executive Marc Elrich

February 18, 2021

I know that many questions exist over the availability of COVID-19 vaccinations. And I share your frustrations. Like many of you, I had hoped to have received my vaccinations by now. I have not yet, but I know I will be vaccinated eventually.

This week, there are some real signs for optimism on two fronts: getting better control of the spread of the virus and having an increased number of people receiving at least one vaccine. Significantly reduced numbers in spreading COVID-19 will not continue if we relax or abandon all of the good behavior that it has taken to power this trend. The number of people receiving vaccines increases every day, those who have not received vaccines must remain patient. Our time is coming.

On the encouraging front, more than 115,000 Montgomery County residents have received at least one dose of vaccine. Overall, that is more than any jurisdiction in the State and represents 11 percent of our population. Second doses have gone to more than 37,000 residents. It is slower than we want because we are getting fewer vaccines each week than we want, but we are making progress.

We also like the direction we are going in reducing the spread. The number of new positive cases averaged 4.1 percent over the last 14 days. That is the lowest rate we have recorded since November. And our number of new cases averaged over the last week is 12.8. That is the lowest it has been since Oct. 29.

The difficult moves we had to take to limit activity—and the efforts by residents to follow the basic steps of wearing masks, keeping safe distances and washing hands often—are proving to be worthwhile. All strategies to fight COVID-19 must continue.

We are doing better organizing vaccine centers. A large part of this is that many more people now understand that vaccines are being given at County-operated centers by appointment only and that we are concentrating on giving vaccines to the first priority groups (1A and part of 1B). The people in these priority groups largely are frontline workers, health professionals and residents 75 and over. These are our residents who have been hit hardest by the virus. Approximately half of our 78,000 residents age 75 and over have received at least a first dose.

So what should you do to be in line for vaccines once we receive more—and when will the County start getting an increased number of vaccines each week?

Governor Larry Hogan has established mass vaccination sites—but the closest one to our County is at Six Flags amusement park in Prince George's County. We have identified available locations in the County where we could have a mass vaccination site and we have conveyed this to the Governor.

If you are willing to travel, you can preregister for the State mass vaccination sites at <https://coronavirus.maryland.gov/pages/vaccine>. You can also text "MDReady" to 898-211 to get alerts from the State, which should include a notice of when there are available appointments at the mass vaccination sites. Just realize that a lot of people are competing for those limited vaccination appointments.

There also are many people competing for the approximately 4,500 weekly vaccines the Montgomery health department is currently being given. If you are in an eligible priority category, make sure you are preregistered at montgomerycountymd.gov/covid19/vaccine. If you know someone who has difficulty preregistering online, we have a phone number to call: 240-777-2982. We will be offering an appointment to everyone on the list, but we may not be able to offer you that appointment for a while.

There also are numerous hospitals, health clinics and private pharmacies receiving vaccines in our County. They receive their doses directly from the State and operate independently of the County health department. You can find more information about these sites at the County COVID-19 website.
